Safe with Faith (SwF) recruits and empowers volunteers within diverse faith communities to bring tailored training and resources on domestic violence and elder abuse to their congregation. In 2018, Safe Havens trained 494 faith leaders and community members on the intersection of abuse and faith and reached a total of 1,200 individuals through our SwF program.

Safe Havens is currently working with 8 dedicated SwF partner congregations of diverse faith backgrounds in the Greater Boston area, and we are actively reaching out to congregations just like yours. Becoming a SwF partner is an excellent opportunity to engage as a united front in a growing social movement against violence. At Safe Havens, we are committed to building lasting relationships and connections with our SwF partners to create meaningful social change. Please contact us today if you or someone you know is interested in learning more or becoming a trusted Safe with Faith partner at amkatzman@interfaithpartners.org.

About Our Program

Transform your faith community into a "safe haven" for victims and survivors of domestic violence and elder abuse.

Safe with Faith (SwF) is a program seeking to create a community among diverse faith groups that are passionate about fostering healthy communities and mitigating domestic violence and elder abuse.
